

Tutoring plan outlined at Monday SC meeting

Tutoring, elections, decorations, constitution, mixers, lounges: these and numerous other subjects were discussed at Monday night's Student Council meeting in the Rec hall.

Vince Salvo, chairman of the academic committee, who, along with Delta Epsilon Sigma, are setting up a tutoring system for students with D's and F's, and others desiring aid, outlined plans for the system.

According to Salvo, the tutors, will be picked wherever possible from the academic club in their area of study. In areas where there is no club, tutors will be good students in the field.

Each tutor will teach the students from a particular course. They will meet with their groups once a week for somewhat over an hour at a cost of 50 cents per student per session.

Salvo also inquired as to the possibility of the Council's contributing another 50 cents per student per session. No action was taken at that time.

The tutoring service is expected to begin operation soon. Fuller details should be available in the near future.

In other action, the Council changed the date of the freshman class election from Nov. 7-8 to Nov. 15-16, since mid term grades will probably not be released until about the seventh and there is a possibility that a candidate might have to withdraw at the last moment if he failed to attain the 1.5 index required to run for office.

It was announced that Drexel had not won the award for best freshman hall Homecoming decoration because the display was not removed in the prescribed amount of time. As a result, there was no winner in the freshman division. Comment was also made concerning the general disorder connected with removing displays.

Plans are being made for a full revision of the constitution of the St. Joe Student Union, probably around the beginning of the second semester.

A mixer has been tentatively set for the evening of Nov. 18. This is the only available Saturday night before Christmas vacation.

The sophomores thanked the Council for the prompt response their plea for lounge furniture received through the Council.

For further details of the meeting consult the printed minutes.

The council's next meeting will be next Monday night, Oct. 31. From now on the Council will meet every second Monday night in the Rec hall at 7:00 p.m.

'The Far Off Hills?'

Looking for a job?

Agency provides European jobs

Summer jobs in Europe are now available to almost every American college student. The American Student Information Service, known as ASIS, has more than 3,000 summer jobs in their files awaiting applicants.

In the past four years ASIS has successfully placed thousands of American college students in varied summer jobs throughout 11 European countries. Jobs are mostly unskilled and many do not require a knowledge of a foreign language.

Monthly wages range from room and board in Spain to $150 for the highest paid positions in West Germany.

This coming summer thousands of European employers will provide summer employment for American college students, in order to make it possible for young Americans on a limited budget not only to see Europe, but also to "live it."

Jobs include factory work, resort work, construction work, farm work, hospital work, child care, camp counselling positions and many others. Students will receive the same wages as the Europeans with whom they are working.

In addition to an opportunity to personally get to know "the man behind the counter" in Europe, a summer job in Europe can defray the cost of the trip by as much as 50%.

Former president Eisenhower stressed the value of this type of program when he said: "If we are going to take advantage of the assumption that all people want peace, then the problem is for people to get together and to leap governments... if necessary to evade governments... to work out not one method but thousands of methods by which people can gradually learn a little bit more about each other."

The ASIS recently announced that it has launched an expansion program designed to provide better organization and service by its Placement Department. A new, large, and centrally located office has been opened on Luxembourg's busiest street, the Avenue de la Liberte. It was also announced that the ASIS Placement staff has been doubled and placed under new management.

For further information and complete details write to ASIS, 22 Avenue de la Liberte, Luxembourg, or inquire at the Stuff office.

SJ glee club to appear in Chicago recital

The St. Joseph's college glee club, in conjunction with the Alverno college chorus and orchestra of Milwaukee, will present the Christmas section of G. F. Handel's "Messiah" at Orchestra Hall, Chicago's leading concert hall. The concert, directed by Rev. Lawrence F. Heiman, C.P.P.S., is scheduled for Sunday, December seventeenth, at 3:30 p.m.

The program will include pre-concert organ selections by Sister Mary Theophane, O.S.F., F.A.G.O. Sister Theophane received her doctorate from Eastman school of music, Rochester, New York, and is the director of the Alverno college music department. She is a nationally recognized concert organist, composer, and authority on music.

The Alverno chorus and orchestra is conducted by Sister Mary Laudesia, O.S.F. Sister Laudesia is a professor of voice and conducting at Alverno.

In the past, St. Joe gleemen have made Chicago appearances at the Conrad-Hilton hotel, Wrigley field, Thorne hall, Rosary college, Mundelein college, Xavier college and various high schools. The 1961 Orchestra Hall engagement marks a high point in the glee club's history.

For tickets, contact Thomas Naylor, Box 108, treasurer of the glee club. The price is $2.50 per ticket, $1.50 for high school students. St. Joseph's students and their dates may obtain tickets for $4.00 a couple. This special price reduction is available only on campus.

Sophs preparing rec hall for Towers dance night

Just a few more days until the Towers Dance, fellows! The Big event will take place Saturday, Oct. 28. Tickets, at $8.00 per couple, will be on sale until the 26th.

The sophomores, who have been working for several weeks in preparation for this dance, this week will start working in earnest on Raleigh hall. The forms are already up for the settings and decorations, but there's a lot more to be done. The Rec hall will probably be a busy, somewhat cluttered place.

The theme, "Canadian Sunset," will be carried out first with a mural on the wall depicting pine trees and scenic forest mountains. To give the setting an even more realistic effect, some live trees are going to be brought in. They should arrive on Tuesday.

The ticket committee head is Ed Glatz, responsible for getting the trees is Joe Gugliotta, and heading the advertising effort is Bill Seidensticker. Jim Ford took care of getting Si Zentner's popular band, Bill DeJean organized housing for the girls the Joemen will bring as dates, and planning the program is Jack Ubic. In charge of arrangement is Dave Fagian.

A critical look

'Phase' format changed for '61

By DAN ZAWILA

The 1961 edition of Phase, the college yearbook, has taken on a new look. The once static Maroon and Gold cover of 1960 has been replaced with a new version of the twin towers on a grey field enclosed within an embellished, blue "P".

The most notable change in Phase, however, is a change in format. In previous years, the cover size of Phase was 8"x10", and it averaged 130 pages. In the 1961 edition, cover-size has been increased to 8"x12", and 40 pages have been added.

In place of the hard gloss paper, a new softer and more porous paper was used in the new Phase, and this seems to account for the generally darker tones of the pictures, since ink is more readily absorbed by the new paper.

Within the book there also is a more abundant use of artwork, instead of the ominous bars and lines which often highlighted previous yearbooks.

The athletic reviews, which caused a great deal of controversy in the 1960 edition, have been dropped from the new Phase, and students are left to draw their own conclusions from the compiled statistics in each section.

The added "Future Development" section in Phase provided some blueprints and maps of planned buildings. Therefore, aside from pictorially reproducing the pervious school year, a hint of what lies ahead is given for St. Joseph's.

On the whole Phase 1961 gives a very excellent coverage of the school year. Had we seen less of Merlini lounge in the freshmen pictures, and had a few color prints been added to the yearbook, Phase for 1961 could have been "a little bit better."

Marine recruiters here Monday

The Marine Corps Officer Selection team will visit St. Joe on Oct. 30 and 31, and Nov. 1 1961 for the purpose of explaining the officer programs and interviewing applicants for commissions. The team will be located on campus at Raleigh hall between the hours of 9 a.m. and 4 p.m.

Seniors may be interested in the Marine Officer Candidate Course (OCC) or the Aviation Officer Candidate Course (AOCC). The OCC is designed to prepare the applicant for the duties of a Marine ground officer, while the AOCC will specifically prepare the man for assignment as a Marine Aviator.

Men accepted for either program will attend a leadership training course at Quantico, Va. for a period of ten weeks after graduation from college. Having successfully completed the course he will be commissioned a Second Lieutenant. (Continued on Page 4)

Dispute over payment of tutors must end if system is to work

Is it the proper function of any campus agency to provide tutoring for students in academic difficulties? If so, which agency should handle the operation, and on what basis should the system be run?

For as long as most current St. Joe students can recall these subjects have been sources of heated debate here. Although many faculty and students disagree, the consensus seems to be that tutoring is useful, and this opinion seems valid.

However, in the past, difficulty has arisen as to which agency should control the tutoring, who should be eligible, and who should do the actual tutoring. As a result no effective system has been produced.

This year an apparently workable plan has been devised, combining the efforts of the Student Council, Delta Epsilon Sigma honor society and the academic clubs. But now a dispute over the payment of the tutors threatens to foil the plan.

As the system is planned, any freshman or sophomore whose mid-term grade in any course is D or F will be invited by DES to make use of tutoring. Also, any other student desiring aid may apply for tutoring.

Tutors in major fields where there is an academic club (ex. history) will come from the clubs. Where there is no club (ex. English) above average students from the field will do the tutoring.

Each tutor will assist the students from a particular course (ex. history 11). He will meet his group once a week at a time and place decided by the group for somewhat over an hour.

Present plans call for a fee of 50 cents per student per session to go to the tutor, even though there is a danger that this may dampen student interest. Also, it has been pointed out, since there will be more students in some areas some tutors will make considerably more than others.

In addition, it has been suggested that the Student Council furnish an additional 50 cents per student per session. If response to the tutoring is good, this could be a considerable expense to the council and furnish outlandish profits to some of the tutors.

It is true that the tutors will be giving of their own time to help other students. But it is also true that the service will consume only slight time, and should be based in charity, and not in a desire for profit.

There are many who claim tutoring is undesirable since anyone who passes the entrance requirements should be able to succeed in any course they take. Others claim that one student is not qualified to instruct another, or that difficulties caused by the varied methods of various teachers will not be rectified by a tutor who had only one of the profs for the course.

These arguments are logically sound, even though contestible. But the primary effective motive behind tutoring would seem to be charity. This lofty motive should not be superceded by a desire for remuneration.

If charity is not strong enough, then let the tutors collect from the students who will pay. But except in cases of extremely small groups, the use of Council funds, contributed equally by all students for use in projects affecting all students, appears quite unnecessary and even unjust. In no case should a tutor receiving as much as $2.50 or $3.00 from students except to receive additional funds from the Council.

The questions have been answered; the tutoring service is ready to begin operation. Only a dollar sign stands in the way of success.

McDowell concert draws high praise

By MR. BERNARD QUBECK

Last Tuesday evening, Oct. 26, St. Joseph's college presented Robert McDowell, Chicago resident pianist, in the first recital of the 1961-62 auditorium concert series.

What distinguishes Mr. McDowell from the pack of young pianists who astonish concertgoers each season with their virtuosity is the depth and sincerity of his musical feeling. His impression on the St. Joseph audience was that he is not only a master technician but a sensitive artist as well.

One could sense that the audience was quickly aware of this when he played the classical Mozart Bb major sonata, his opening number for the evening. McDowell's technical control was brilliantly clean, and at times one was almost too conscious of the shiny surface of the music. We must hasten to add that his Mozart sounded as we think it should have, crisp and fluent and precise in the Allegro, serene and glowing in the Adagio, and gaily staccato in the Allegretto.

In a swift adjustment of style, he played Chopin's Nocturne in Db with a lovely flowing legato and luminosity. The Chopin Etude in E major along with the Prelude in D minor and the familiar Polonaise in Ab (heroique) completed the Chopin group.

How did he fare with the moderns? The answer came quickly after the intermission in the third and fourth groups of the evening. The Debussy "La plus que lent" Valse had all the Andalusian languor and subtle explosive inner climaxes which are inherent in it. A Rachmaninoff Prelude thundered out easily and reasonantly.

His rendition of Tcherpnine and Khachaturian sent us away with the feeling that Mr. McDowell is at home with every style, is master of his instrument and, as far as we can tell, belongs, despite his youth, among the few great living pianists of our day.

Arizona professor outlines 10 methods for college success

Robert Tyson, a Hunter college psychology professor, recently listed the following methods of improving one's standing with the profs. The article appeared in the State Press of Arizona State University.

"1. Bring the professor newspaper clippings dealing with his subject. Demonstrate fiery interest and give him timely items to mention to the class. If you can't find clippings dealing with his subject, bring any clippings at random. He thinks everything deals with his subject.

"2. Look alert. Take notes eagerly. If you look at your watch, don't stare at it unbelievably and shake it.

"3. Nod frequently and murmur, 'How true.' To you, this seems exaggerated. To him, it's quite objective.

"4. Sit in front, near him. (Applies only if you intend to stay awake.) If you're going to all the trouble of making a good impression, you might as well let him know who you are, especially in a large class.

"5. Laugh at his jokes. You can tell, if he looks up from his notes and smiles expectantly, that he has told a joke.

"6. Ask for outside reading. You don't have to read it. Just ask.

"7. If you must sleep, arrange to be called by a friend at the end of the hour. It creates an unfavorable impression if the rest of the class has left and you sit there alone, dozing.

"8. Be sure the book you read during the lecture looks like a book from the course. If you do math in Psychology class and vice versa, match the books for size and color.

"9. Ask any questions you think he can answer. Conversely, avoid announcing that you have found the answer to a question he couldn't answer, and in your younger brother's second grade reader at that.

"10. Call attention to his writing. Produces exquisitely pleasant experiences connected with you. If you know he's written a book or an article, ask in class if he wrote it.

"As to whether or not you want to do some work, in addition to all this, well, it's controversial and up to the individual."

Thinking Men Prefer

By STEVE LIGDA

With plans, such as those for the new student center, being formulated, there can be no question that St. Joseph's is preparing to expand in the future. Of course such expansion requires funds for its fulfillment and a good part of these needed funds must come by way of donations from St. Joseph alumni. How do future alumni feel regarding this matter? To find the answer, the question asked this week was, "How would you feel about contributing to the college, as alumni, to projects for the future expansion of St. Joseph's." Eight students felt this way about it.

Tom Kroeger, senior, Elgin, Illinois

"If an alumnus has done his part to educate himself, the obligation to help his alma mater will reveal itself automatically. If such donations have been spent well in the past, the graduate should have no qualms about contributing to the future of other undergrads. This obligation is doubly strong in a small Catholic college such as ours. We should feel proud to give what we can."

Phil Kummerer, senior, Chicago, Illinois

"A strict equation between the cost of a college education and the benefits received thereof can never be made. The many intangibles that we receive, such as personal guidance, the benefits of community living, and the knowledge itself, far outweigh any inconvenience we may undergo as to contributing. In my opinion, therefore, contributions within our means to help future students is a strict moral obligation, not just an act of charity."

Eberhard Gabriel, junior, Westmont, Ill.

"I would contribute to an alumni fund because by contributing, I would be helping to further the educational reputation of St. Joseph's. The better the reputation of this institution, the better the chances are for an alumni to obtain better employment or to be accepted at an outstanding graduate school. The contributions, therefore, would be insurance for success after graduation."

Joseph Severa, junior, Roselle, Illinois

"When I look closely at our campus, I see plaques reading, 'Contributed by . . .,' and I wonder just how much there would be on this campus without these contributors, without these providers. Thus I feel it my obligation also, to contribute and provide for future Joemen. By the way, it is also a good tax deduction."

Bill Ashburn, sophomore, Kokomo, Indiana

"I feel that if a college alumnus looks back on his college career, he will find that many people, especially the faculty members, have given much time and effort to help further this person's education. The alumnus will then find that a contribution is a small return for the great benefit he has derived from the college."

"An alumni who has received a good Catholic college education and is successful in the outside world, in my opinion, is obliged to help other students receive the benefits of a college education and improve on these benefits wherever possible. These are the reasons why I would contribute."

Dennis Berent, freshman, Chicago, Ill.

"Yes I believe that I would contribute, due to the fact that the college has provided me with an education and will be responsible in part for my future success. Also I would feel obligated as an act of charity because someone previously sacrificed the money in order to build St. Joseph's in order that I could attend here today."

Damian Christopher, freshman, Chicago, Illinois

"Yes I would feel obligated because I have attended St. Joseph's and received a comparatively inexpensive, but good, Catholic education. I feel the college, after giving me my education, is entitled to share in my future earnings through my alumni contributions."

Repeat of '60 upset fails

Pumas lose again; Butler wins 27-7

The Pumas suffered their fifth consecutive loss of the season last Saturday, and foiled in their attempt to repeat their 1960 upset, when they lost to the Butler Bulldogs 27-7 in the Butler Bowl.

The game, Butler's Homecoming contest, was played before some 9,000 spectators including approximately 100 from St. Joe.

As in the first game of the year against Hillsdale, the Pumas were hurt early by defensive lapses and second half letdowns. In addition they were hampered by injuries which kept several men out of the game and put others out early in the contest.

The Puma touchdown came in the second quarter on a three yard plunge by Phil Zera. The score climaxed a long Puma drive. Rich Ostrowski kicked the point which made the halftime score only 12-7 in Butler's favor.

St. Joe's defense stiffened after Butler had scored the first two times they got the ball. Larry Shook and Ken Freeman scored the early Bulldog TD's. But the rest of the first half was a fairly even battle with the Puma defense and new, three-man backfield offense causing the hometown Bulldogs lots of trouble.

But in the second half the Butler power showed through as the Bulldogs tallied two TD's, and collected a safety by trapping quarterback Denny Anderson in the end zone.

Fullback Gary Green, whose high school football was of the six-man type at nearby Wheatfield, scored both the Bulldogs' second half touchdowns. Mickey Seal kicked one extra point.

Although the Pumas outgained the Bulldogs, the Bulldog defense was very rugged indeed in the crucial moments. Halfback Mike Hill intercepted two passes in the second half and the Bulldog line turned into a brick wall. It was simply a case of too much power for Coach Hinkle's Bulldogs, and not enough for Coach Dwyer's Pumas.

Butler skill showed especially on kickoff and punt returns where numerous long gains behind precision blocking were made. One spectacular punt return touchdown in the second half was nullified by a penalty.

Denny Mudd picked up 57 yards for the Pumas in 11 carries for a 5.2 average, and toted a Dave Beam pass 35 yards in what was probably the most exciting single Puma play of the day.

Butler frosh dump Pumas 22-7

Monday was a day of disappointment for the freshman Puma football squad. From the opening kickoff until the final minutes of the contest, the talented freshman Bulldogs from Butler university kept their T-formation offense in high gear and repeatedly cracked through St. Joseph's defense while tallying three times.

On the opening kickoff Butler started a sustained drive which culminated in six points for the visitors. After a right end sweep for extra points failed Butler kicked off and the teams settled down to defensive football. The only other early Butler scoring threat was thwarted by Charles Ryan's interception in his own end zone. The quarter ended with Butler still out in front 6 to 0.

Midway in the second quarter Tom McGinty, who turned in a creditable job at fullback all day, pulled off the game's most exciting play and probably the best of the year for the fledgling Pumas. After taking a bad pass from center, in punt formation, McGinty broke for the west sidelines and after shaking off several Bulldog tacklers cut towards the east sidelines, and with excellent blocking, streaked some 80 yards into the end zone. To cap the Puma scoring for the afternoon, Pete Snyder's extra-point split the uprights and the St. Joe frosh led 7 to 6.

With seconds left in the first half, St. Joe relinquished the ball on downs and Butler's versatile quarterback brought the fans to their feet by heaving a 40 yard pass which was gathered in by Butler's left end who scurried down to St. Joe's 8 yard line. There Butler continued its devastating ground attack by sweeping around right end and racking up six more points. A pass play was good for two points and at the end of the first half Butler led 14 to 7.

The third quarter was a battle between Butler's offensive backfield and St. Joe's defensive backfield as the hard charging Butler line repeatedly tore holes into St. Joe's defensive line. Butler punched over their final touchdown on a 10 yard run straight through the middle, and then tallied the two extra points on a plunge and led 22-7, which eventually was the final score.

The last quarter was rather sluggish although St. Joe appeared to have come to life towards the end of the game. After a march which originated at their own 30 yard line the Pumas marched all the way to the Butler 20 before running out of gas. Then Ken Wujek, who shared defensive honors with Ryan, recovered a Butler fumble but again the Pumas had to relinquish the ball. The game ended with Butler merely running out the clock on St. Joe's 35 yard line.

All told, the frosh football team ended the season with a 1-2 record, but showed considerable promise. They were hampered in the Butler game by injuries to several key men.

Butler halfback Mickey Seal plunges through the Puma line for short yardage in Saturday's game at Indianapolis, as several Pumas move up to secure the tackle.

Valparaiso, Butler leading ICC; Indiana State, DePauw win

Butler and Valparaiso cling to the top of the Indiana Collegiate Conference with wins over St. Joseph's and Evansville last Saturday.

The unbeaten Bulldogs picked up two touchdowns and a safety in the second half to pull away from St. Joe and cop a 27-7 victory in their homecoming game at Indianapolis. Fullback Gary Green scored twice to pace the Butler win. Phil Zera scored the lone Puma touchdown on a three-yard plunge in the second quarter. Halfback Larry Shook and end Ken Freeman also scored for Butler.

Halfback John Knight scored twice to lead Valparaiso to a 29-12 win over Evansville's Purple Aces Saturday night at Evansville. Fullback Rick Willer and end Jim Konrad also notched scores for the Crusaders.

Indiana State picked up their first 1961 win in five decisions at Muncie with a 41-0 thrashing of Ball State's Cardinals. Steve Brandenburg, a six-foot, 210-lb. junior fullback from Rensselaer, scored four touchdowns for the Sycamores to spoil the Cardinals' homecoming game. Five of the six Sycamore touchdowns were set up by Ball State fumbles or Indiana State pass interceptions.

DePauw copped a non-conference tilt from Washington of St. Louis 27-6, at St. Louis. Quarterback Jim Menighan scored on a one-yard plunge and a six-yard run to pace the Tiger victory.

Also working out are returning student Phil Bergen and transferee George Wisz. They will be eligible in January if they attain the necessary grades this semester.

Freshmen basketball candidates are Ruben Rodriguez, Jesse Jackson, Luther Howard, Al Papai, Fred Farley, Ken Dockus, Lonnie Brunswick and Bob Saltysiak.

The Pumas will play a 21 game schedule this season. A possible game with the alumni is being planned for sometime during the season.

DePauw Tigers invade Pumaville Saturday, Oct. 28

The St. Joseph's Pumas will make their final 1961 home appearance Saturday when they host the DePauw university Tigers. As in their home opener against Hillsdale, the Pumas are still seeking their initial '61 victory.

DePauw visits Pumaville with a 3-2 record, and features a stingy defense which has allowed just five touchdowns in five contests.

The Tigers are 1-2 in the ICC after defeating Ball State 12-6 and losing to Evansville 9-7 and Butler 12-6. In non-conference play DePauw has edged Illinois Wesleyan 8-0 and Washington university of St. Louis 27-6.

In his second year at DePauw, head coach Tommy Mont has 15 returning lettermen, including defensive standouts George "Kit" Lortz, 195 lb. senior tackle, Jim McCoy, 205 lb. senior guard, Joel Thomason, 215 lb. junior tackle, and Duff Bula, 185 lb. junior fullback.

In its convincing triumph over Washington U. last Saturday, DePauw's defense held the losers to 10 yards rushing, 51 yards passing and just five first downs, while the Tiger offense was amassing 334 yards rushing and 59 yards passing for 20 first downs.

Offensively Doug Weir, a 5'9" 180 lb. sophomore halfback, has been an outstanding performer. Weir gained 101 of DePauw's 201 yards rushing in his team's loss to Butler, and scampered for one touchdown against Washington U. Before the latter tilt, Weir had gained 273 yards in 57 carries for an average of 4.7 yards per carry.

DePauw has never beaten a St. Joseph's team in seven previous encounters. Last season's 7-7 tie was the Tigers' closest scent of victory over the Pumas.

The Tigers, who are seeking their first winning season in four years, need a win over the Joe-men in order to even their ICC record and go two games over the .500 mark for the season. Meanwhile the winless Pumas are continuing a search for their first win in six games, and their first home success since November 7, 1959 when they nipped Evansville 8-7.

Intramural Scoreboard

Bennett, Noll lead in upperclass IM league

By JIM TRAINOR

The story of the past two weeks of intramural football has been one of upsets and excitement.

In the Upperclassmen league, the Washburn Gang, once-thought invincible, was twice beaten, losing two in a row to the Scharf Powerhouses and Noll 69'ers. However, in all fairness to Washburn, it should be mentioned that it is a team hampered by injuries. On few occasions this year has Washburn been able to field their entire squad.

JIM TRAINOR

But don't discount the other teams in the league. Thus far there has been two "sleepers," the first-place Noll 69'ers and the Scharf Powerhouses. The latter handed Washburn their first defeat over a span of two years. With forty-five seconds remaining, quarterback Jerry Meservey drove three yards into paydirt to give Scharf a 25 to 20 come-from-behind victory.

Scharf then played the Bennett Astronauts, who sported a five game winning streak. With Scharf leading 7 to 6 with only seconds remaining, Astronaut Matt Walsh threw a short pass to Pat O'Connor for the winning touchdown.

Meanwhile the first-place Noll 69'ers were silently climbing to the top of the pack. Their only defeat was handed to them by the Gallagher Constipators, a sophomore team with a so-so 4-4 record. Outside of the Constipators, very little competition has been provided by the sophomore class.

In the Frosh league, the West Seifert Sizzlers are sizzling along with an unblemished record of 6-0. Hot on their heels are the East Seifert No. 1 and No. 2 teams with records of 7-1 and 5-1 respectively. Incidentally, excellent representation has been provided by the two Seiferts. The combined record of the top five teams from East and West Seifert is 25-7. Watch out, upperclassmen, when the tournament rolls around.

Team scoring honors in the Upperclassmen league go to the Washburn team which has scored a total of 195 points in eight games, for an average of 24.3 points a game. Behind Washburn are the Noll Knights, who have scored 159 points in eight games for an average of 19.7 points per game.

In the Frosh league, the first place West Seifert Sizzlers have scored 143 points in six games for an average of 23.5 points per game. The second place East Seifert team No. 1 is averaging 15.6 points per game with 126 points in eight games.

Jack Blume (Noll Knights) is still leading the Upperclassmen league in individual scoring with 44 points. Hank Wilken, Blume's teammate, is second in scoring with 39 points. Bill Slykas (Noll 69'ers) has dropped from a first place tie with Blume down to third place with 33 points. Tony Pacenti (Washburn Gang) retains fourth place with 31 points. In fifth place is George Ephgrave (Gallagher Horney Toads).

In the Frosh league, Andy Szmagalski (Drexel Drips), with 52 points, retains his leadership in scoring. Bob Erdman (Drexel Demons) is second with 43 points. Ray Baniewicz (East Seifert No. 1) has moved from fourth to third place with 42 points. In fourth place is John Boland (East Seifert No. 3) with 38 points. D. Buttita (Drexel Untouchables) is in fifth place with 37 points.

The I.M. personnel met last week and discussed the opening of the I.M. bowling program. The league begins Nov. 8 and will be held on Wednesday nights. The cost per player is $1.50 per night, which includes three games of bowling plus shoes.

A current problem of the I.M. office is that of forfeited football games. So far there have been 19 forfeits in both leagues, with the Upperclassmen accounting for 14 of them. A great number were caused by the failure of the team captain to report to the I.M. office a roster change.

Roster changes will not be accepted by the referees. Mike Gatton, speaking for the I.M. office, says that "if any captain wishes to change his roster he must submit his change to the I.M. office before it will go into effect."

Team captains will do well to heed this advice.

Lieutenant and in the case of OCC will be assigned to Officer's Basic School at Quantico or in the case of AOCC he will be transferred to Pensacola, Fla. for flight training.

These programs are available to either mid-term or full term seniors.

All other students (freshmen, sophomores or juniors) are eligible for Marine Corps Platoon Leaders Class (PLC) which is either ground or aviation.

The PLC program not only assures the student of a commission upon graduation but allows him to count all time enrolled in the program on longevity for pay purposes. This can mean as much as $127 a month over the regular pay of Second Lieutenant.

If any information is needed prior to the arrival of the team, information may be obtained from the local Marine recruiting office.

Dance, football trip planned

The Chicago club's Thanksgiving dance (an open dance) will be held at the Del Prado Hotel, 53rd street and Hyde Park Blvd., on Thanksgiving night. Two bands will provide the music. Mixed drinks will be sixty cents. The parking area facilitates about 500 cars.

Information concerning prices and designs of club jackets, sweaters and blazers has been received. There will be a special meeting within two weeks for the purpose of voting on the type of apparel the club will use.

The Ohio club has purchased 40 tickets to the Cleveland Browns-Chicago Bears football game scheduled for Sunday, Dec. 10. A bus has been chartered to take the members to the game in Chicago. If all the tickets are not sold to members they will be available to others.

Plans are being made for members to speak at their high schools over the Christmas vacation in an attempt to interest more Ohio students in St. Joe.

The annual Ohio club raffle will be held later in the semester. Prizes are presently being selected and tickets printed. The club also will sponsor another Monte Carlo party during the second semester.

'The hole story'

Frequently in the pursuit of journalistic pursuits certain nearly insurmountable obstacles present themselves.

To the layout editor these obstacles are known as holes. In this case the obstacle is 4¼ inches deep by 1 column wide, which comes to roughly 1.7338 pints of blood, sweat and tears per square inch.

Other fields have their own unique methods of coping with comparable problems, i.e., football and the punt, classes and the cut, student unions and economizing.

But we stalwart centurions of paste pots, layout sheets and migraine have no choice—the yawning chasm must be closed. Hence the foregoing.

And NOW the hole is filled.
